

'Urgent' effort to spread October warning to citizens began in July

By DAVID J. NOLAN
Co-author of a preliminary study of lead in Granite City
In response to the front page story and the editorial concerning the recent lead problem

In Granite City, I would like to "clear the air" on the lead study undertaken locally.
First of all, the local study pertaining to lead is a draft copy of a project which involved collecting data — not to arouse the public, as (Del) Clawson (of KTVI) easily did, but to present the collected data to the local Air Pollution Control Board with the hope that the data will substantiate the need for the Air Pollution Control Board to proceed with further studies.

On the aspect that there is a health problem, the draft copy of the study states, "Certainly the health aspects of the situation should be examined."

Nowhere in the draft copy of the study does it say lead poisoning is occurring in the Granite City area.

The draft copy of the study further suggests that one way to examine the possibility of a potential health problem is to set up a blood sample program. This author of the study did not appreciate the approach that Clawson took in informing the public of the lead problem.

In July 1977, Clawson met with John Stier (the other co-author) with the idea that he,

Clawson, could possibly attain money from the news station or company that he worked for to further investigate the lead problem in Granite City, if he could obtain a sample of the data from the study.
On obtaining the information, Clawson was handed a copy of the study that was marked "draft copy."

No permission was given, or was Stier asked if the data given out could be used for news releases.

If this story by Clawson does get the local community involved in cleaning his or her environment, then I do support him, although he does come on strong in some cases. I would hope that more people could get involved in cleaning the air they breathe.

Involvement in cleaner air can start at home. By keeping cars tuned, by not smoking, by not burning trash, leaves, etc., people can help clean the air.

Industry must maintain air quality standards by keeping their environmental control devices operating efficiently, by periodic maintenance checks, and complete overhaul of the equipment if it becomes necessary.

This writer remembers when one could not walk downtown without walking through a cloud of red dust. It seems that nothing has changed. This is due to either faulty equipment or the lack of environmental control equipment — or the environmental equipment is just not capable of doing its job.

Environmental Protection Agency standards must be maintained by all if a clean environment is to be achieved. This is what the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board tries to regulate.

This concern for the environment is also why a study was undertaken by two college graduates on "atmospheric lead removal by summer rainstorms and its fallout to soil in Granite City, Ill."

GC Steel triggering expansions

As Granite City Steel expands, it is triggering other expansions and plant location decisions in the Midwest and Southwest, George A. Stinson said here Thursday night.

Chairman and chief executive officer of National Steel Corp., owner of the Granite City Steel Division, Stinson addressed the 37th annual meeting of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce. The event was attended by 325 at the Sunset Hills Country Club.

"Granite City has become a more valuable steel resource base for this area of the country — not only in terms of greater capacity, but also in being able to satisfy a wider range of needs with expanding product lines," the capacity gathering was told.

"These are important factors for firms to consider when planning expansion or relocation of their manufacturing facilities in this area."

"We are now beginning to see a strong shift in metal stamping plants locating within Granite City's marketing area, with great growth potential over the next five years," Stinson said. "And we're determined to be of greater service to the many good customers we already have here in automotive, agricultural, construction, contractors' products, and other markets.

"A major strength of Granite City is its location, variously described as being on the edge of the 'sun belt,' the 'gateway to the West' and the 'crossroads of America.'"

"From a steelmaker's point of view, it means being close to coal and ore, having access to the Mississippi-Missouri-Ohio waterways, as well as excellent rail and highway transportation, having good markets for our products nearby, and an excellent labor force."

"There is no question that this is a prime location for a steel mill and for future expansion of such a mill."

Noting that the 80-inch hot mill here is "as large and as modern as any in Japan or Europe," the speaker said that "more steel can be produced now at Granite City than at any time in the past."

He praised as hallmarks of the local division's success its people, facilities, products and locations.

"I am enthusiastic about Granite City Steel and its bright prospects for future growth and prosperity," Stinson asserted. "National Steel is the best-equipped company in the

City seeking simpler voting

Reapportionment of Granite City voting precincts as one means of resolving a problem of conflict between city and county polling places will be studied by the Planning and Zoning Committee of the Granite City Council.

The committee also is expected to look into other means of simplifying voting procedures in city elections, such as the effectiveness of an educational program, more thorough training of election judges and clerks and preparation of the city's own voters' lists for each precinct.

The council action grew out of repeated reports during the Oct. 4 special referendum on the elective status of the city superintendent's office that voters did not know where to vote, and in some instances were sent to precincts in which they had not voted in previous elections.

Alderman Charles Douglas of the First Ward said he believes that the city should set up its own records for registered voters in the city's 33 precincts, but Robert Stevens, city clerk, explained that the county clerk's office at Edwardsville is the only agency authorized by state law to register voters.

Everett Worthen, 4200 Maryville Road, spoke to the council last week and said that about 270 persons in his precinct were unable to determine the place to cast their ballots because of changes within the last year in the makeup of some of the Granite City precincts and the addition of five "county" precincts within the boundaries of Granite City Township.

Worthen told the council that he had talked to County Clerk Evelyn Bowles during the confusion on Oct. 4 and that she said his in Granite City is the only community in Madison County whose voting precincts are not co-extensive with the county voting precincts.

Stevens told the aldermen that ideally, the city's precinct boundaries should be co-extensive with those of the county precincts.

The clerk said that since the special referendum early this

Messengers active in GC

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

"I am opposed to having a horse race messenger service in Granite City and will do whatever I can to use the city's resources to get them out of town," Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler commented Friday in response to the opening of an establishment which accepts money and purchases parimutuel tickets for customers.

The establishment, operating at 1415 Twenty-first St. (near Niedringhaus and Grand avenues) is believed represented by Robert H. Rice of Belleville, former St. Clair County state's attorney and now in private law practice. It opened at 3 p.m. Thursday.

Rice also represents The Finish Line Express, 306 Broadway, Venice, which serves as a messenger service, accepting money from customers with bet requests and then conveying the money to the race track and purchasing parimutuel tickets for the customer.

Any winnings will be conveyed by the messenger service back to the customer, it was explained.

At the office in Granite City, a printed slip of paper was available on counters at which customers could write numbers under the heading "Daily Double."

The slip, which noted, "This is not an official order," explained, "We act as a messenger only. We purchase parimutuel tickets for you.

"We do not accept bets or wagers. Our fee is 10 per cent of the face value of each ticket. We are not interested in the outcome of any race or races."

A copy of The Daily Racing Form was available on each of the two wall-mounted counters. Copies of the racing programs for Hawthorne Race Track in Cicero, Arlington Race Track in Arlington Heights, Ill., and Balmoral Park in Crete, Ill., were on the walls over the counters Friday.

A table and several chairs were in the middle of the room. On the rear wall of the public area are three glass windows with bank-type slots at the bottom and a small hole through which customers can talk to employees.

The business has no city business license. Assistant City Attorney Irvin C. Slate Jr. has been assigned by Mayor Schuler to study whether it needs one.

There was no building permit issued for remodeling the structure, although one man seen in the establishment said the work cost about $1,700 to do

A message was received several days ago in the office of the city inspection office asking Building Inspector Anthony Rusick to call "Mr. Rice" in regard to 1415 Twenty-first St.

The message was not written out entirely, but noted that the woman caller said something about an express company and

Walker to head Urban League

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

Willie F. Walker, a former Venice teacher and former Madison Board of Education member, has been named executive director of the Madison County Urban League.

In announcing Walker's appointment, the league's board of directors said his selection culminates a three-month nationwide search.

As executive director, he will be responsible for the overall administration and day-to-day operation of the county agency, the 109th affiliate in the Urban League's national movement.

A resident of Madison County for 32 years, Walker graduated in 1960 from Madison High

The Finish Line Express opened at 306 Broadway, Venice, Thursday afternoon, offering to serve as a messenger for bets at local and Chicago area horse race tracks.

The messenger service was objected to by a gathering of 75 Venice residents at last Tuesday's City Council meeting. Officials said Illinois courts currently have left a legal loophole under which such activities are permitted.

Loot estimate cut; arrest charge filed

Ricky Simpson, 17, Collinsville, was arrested Sunday on a felony warrant alleging theft in connection with the theft of an auto containing about $5,000 worth of computer and electronic equipment from the parking lot of the Tip Top Tavern, 18th and State streets.

The car's owner, Joseph Krusec, 1715 Collinsville Ave., Madison, first estimated the value of the equipment in the car at $200,000, but later checked and found the value to be much lower.

Krusec, who works for a computer firm, kept computer parts, printed circuits, electronics repair tools and equipment, a paging beeper, and other items in the trunk and rear seat of the auto.

He told police he placed the car's keys on the bar of the tavern Wednesday night and played a game of pool. When he returned to the bar, the keys were gone and the auto had been taken from the parking lot.

Collinsville police found the auto at a home where several persons were unloading items from the auto and taking them into a house early Thursday.

Two men started to drive away in the car and were chased by Collinsville officers. The stolen car and another auto crashed during the chase and the two men in the car fled on foot and escaped.

A search warrant was issued for the home where the auto was unloaded, and officers recovered all of the stolen equipment and the Krusec car's spare tire and wheel in the home.

The woman resident was taken into custody in Collinsville for questioning but has since been released.

The investigation into the case led to issuance of an arrest warrant for Simpson, who was believed to have dropped his cigarettes and a shoe near the wrecked auto.

GC officials support Alton dam, lock job

Granite City officials have gone on record favoring the construction of the proposed Alton dam and lock project.

On a motion by Alderman Roy Poulos of the Third Ward, council members last week voted to notify legislators that they favor the project.

City Clerk Robert Stevens was instructed to send a letter to Illinois senators and congressmen in this region emphasizing the city's stand on the project.

Mayor Paul Schuler commented that the project "would have a tremendous impact on labor in this area."

LINDBERG PROMOTED

'Trick or treaters' to march tonight

Costumed Halloweeners will make their annual "trick or treat" trips to Quad-City area homes tonight to climax one of the busiest Halloween seasons in recent years.

A busy weekend of organized activities marked this year's season including parades and contests. Other programs also are planned tonight.

Tonight's visits in search of "goodies" will be limited to the hours of 6 to 9 p.m. in Granite City, Venice and Ponton, Beach, and from 6 to 8 p.m. in Madison, according to area police chiefs.

Authorities urged parents to accompany children under 7 while parading or touring neighborhoods.

Among highlights of tonight's activities will be a "1977 Monsterama Production" for Venice youngsters, arranged by a group of Venice citizens in the Venice Recreation Center. Free hot dogs and soda will be served and prizes will be awarded.

Cash prizes and trophies will be awarded in judging of children's costumes in two categories — 1 through 13 years of age and 14 to 16.

The annual Moose Lodge 272 Halloween parade at 7:30 p.m. Saturday attracted over 300 children in Halloween costumes. It was one of the largest turnouts in the history of the traditional event, according to a Moose spokesman. Women of the Moose Lodge assisted.

Winners were: Best Dressed — Teresa Townsend, first place; Danielle Snell, second, and Ray and Charlotte Painter, third. Most Original — Michael Vance, first, Melissa Keltner and Jane Chastain, second, and David E. Nance, third; Most Comical — David Noel, first; Joey Bucks, second, and Scott Pettit, third.

An additional 40 prizes also were awarded.

Walter Anders was chairman of the event. Judges were Capt. Mike Tompkins of the Salvation Army, Officer Friendly Fred Hoffman and Lionel Portell, superintendent of streets.

A parking meter decorating contest sponsored by the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce was won Saturday by Bobbie Faye Knight, a first-grade pupil at Emerson School. Downtown parking meters were decorated in a Halloween theme by Emerson School pupils as part of a downtown Halloween program.

The youngsters decorated meters at 9 a.m. Saturday. Judging was done at 1 p.m. by Henry Gabriel, Eugene Alasti and Mrs. Patricia Mueller.

A trophy was presented to the winner in a program in the Emerson School gymnasium early this afternoon. The judges announced five entries were given honorable mention. They included:

A red clown figure prepared by four students, Michelle Kientle, Marsha White, Aimee Dooly and Christine Evans under direction of fourth-grade teacher Mrs. Connie Steffen; a large brown owl made by the students of Mrs. Brenda Keene of the first grade; an "upside down clown" made by Greg Funkhouser; a leaf man made by Billy Hildreth, and a scarecrow by Tiffany Pryor.

The judges said the parking meter decorations went far beyond the original plan to decorate paper bags to be placed over the meters, and "showed outstanding creativeness in the use of natural materials" in making the decorations, most of which were figures attached to the meter standards.

The North High School Steel City Band and Pom Pom Squad performed at the corner of 19th Street and Delmar Road, beginning at 1:30 p.m. A crowd of several hundred downtown shoppers.

A Halloween masquerade party was held for children at Chouteau Township in the new Community Center on North Thurgate Drive Sunday. The event began at 3 p.m. and continued until 6 p.m.

Area "haunted houses," sponsored by Explorer posts and the Granite City Jaycees, reported brisk business during the weekend: They will be open tonight.

The Explorer Post 10-4 Haunted Castle at 1316 Madison Ave., reported more than 1,000 visitors last night and more than 2,700 since its opening Wednesday. Other haunted houses also report good turnouts, including the Jaycees' house at 1855 Poplar St., and those sponsored by Explorer Post 10-33 of the Granite City Police Department at Crossroads Plaza and Postoffice Beach police's Post 255 haunted house, 4101 Kaseberg Lane. The haunted houses will be open tonight.

The Granite City Public Library's annual Halloween Party last week attracted about 200 youngsters and parents.

The Madison Junior Service Club held a pumpkin decorating contest Saturday afternoon at the Madison Memorial Center, Seventh and Lee streets. Mark Rhoads, 12, son of Mrs. Teresa Rhoads, 1541 Market St., Madison, was the winner.

FIRE DAMAGES TRUCK
A pickup truck owned by Mike Kamadulaki, 1001 Iowa St., Madison, was damaged by fire at 1:30 a.m. Sunday by what police said was arson. Madison firemen said a burning railroad flare had been thrown into the cab of the truck.

City seeking

month, he has talked with City Attorney George Filcoff and City Engineer Monroe Brewer about preparation of new precinct maps.

"I think if we prepare new maps and charts and publicize them in the newspaper, it should help a lot," Stevens said.

Most of the problems causing uncertainty over where a voter should cast his ballot resulted from the updating of the countywide registration system only a few weeks before the Oct. 4 election, some aldermen said.

New county (pink) registration cards were mailed by the county clerk's office bearing the number of the county precinct in which the voter lived. Since many voters were not aware of their "city" precinct numbers and were unaware that city and county precinct numbers are different, they became confused over their polling place locations, it was noted.

In discussing the problem last week, Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward said that "I have worked with the people in my ward, and with the election judges to see that we have no problems there. We use the same election judges at all times and they know their job."

"If there is any attempt to change the precincts in my ward, I'll fight it," Whitmer said.

After Worthen spoke to the council, Warren Decatur, an alderman of Ward Four, told the council that "We have people asking us to do things for them. That is what we were elected for, and I think something should be done."

Mayor Paul Schuler commented, "It appears there are two alternatives. One is to reappoint the precincts. The other is to educate the public."

The council referred the matter to the Planning and Zoning Committee on a motion by Douglas.

GC Steel

American steel industry. In this company, we have no old or outmoded plants.

"Our facilities compare favorably with the best in the world. We have no plants that are candidates to be shut down and abandoned. And that applies first and foremost to our Granite City plant."

"The problems that do face the steel industry are solvable. I pledge that National Steel Corp. will keep pressing and writing these problems until they are solved, and the better days that they surely lie ahead come to pass."

Maurice Dailey served as chairman of the annual meeting committee, and toastmaster was Randall Robertson.

Opening remarks were by Edward F. Reiske, Chamber executive vice-president. Prayers were offered by the Rev. Dennis Rutledge, pastor of Central Christian Church and president of the Quad-Cities Ministerial Alliance.

Also speaking were Roger A. Higgins, re-elected as Chamber of Commerce president, and Mr. Paul (Billie) Schuler, re-elected as president of the Women's Division of the Chamber. Higgins is manager of the Granite City plant of the Nestle Co., Inc.

Robertson installed 1977-78 officers and directors of the Chamber and Women's Division.

Kenneth L. Evers and Paul M. Walker are new presidents of the Chamber, and Frank R. Rea is the new treasurer.

Women's Division officers include Mrs. William (Lois) Winter, vice-president; Mrs. Wayne (Jeanette) Cannell, recording secretary; Mrs. Ruth Brown, treasurer; and Mrs. Herman (Norma) Schroeder, historian.

Directors installed were Mrs. Mark (Bonnie) Goldenberg and Mrs. Wesley (Mary) Sedekum of the Women's Division and Rea, Evers, Ralph A. Morris II, Eugene L. Aissi, Burton C. Bernard, Harley G. School and received his bachelor's degree from Southern Illinois University in 1965.

He earned a master's degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1971.

For the past 18 months, the agency's new executive has been employed as regional coordinator for the National Urban League, Central Regional Office in Chicago.

In that position, he has provided technical assistance to 41 Urban League affiliates located in nine states.

Walker's previous work experience includes teaching four years at Venice Grade School and serving as vocational instructor at Venice-Lincoln Technical Center, an adult vocational education school.

He also served project director for the former Madison-St. Clair Urban League, now operated as separate entities in the two counties.

Walker was elected to the Madison School Board in April 1972 and was re-elected a second three-year board term in April 1975. He later resigned in order to accept the regional post in Chicago.

Married and a father, Walker has been active with many community and service organizations.

He served for three years on the Tri-City Area YMCA board of governors and for seven years on the Venice-Madison Fine Arts Committee, including a term as president.

Madison County Urban League offices are located in the Quad-Cities at 500 Madison Ave., Madison. Outreach programs are at 1239 Nineteenth St. (Family Planning Clinic). An office also is operated in Alton.

The Madison County Urban League, a Tri-Cities Area United Way Agency, currently is sponsoring a new $1.2 million Follow-Up project, funded by the Madison County Office of Manpower Development, and the family planning clinic, funded by the Illinois Family Planning Council.

Most recently, the Urban League has received funding from the Madison County Community Development Block Grant Program to conduct a housing counseling pilot project. Other new programs are in the planning stage.

But business

left the phone number of a law firm.

Rusick told the Press-Record that he had lost the note, so he was unable to return Rice's call.

City Inspector Emerald Dawes said he was told last Monday that someone was remodeling the building's interior, so he went in and told a worker he would have to stop work until he got a building permit.

The remodeling was nearly complete at that time, Dawes said. The only man inside was painting, he noted.

The inspector said he was told the new windows were bullet-proof and there was "a heavy security system" barring entry to the back room to unauthorized persons.

Dawes said he checked every day last week but found no one there.

Schuler said Friday, "I came back early from the township officials' convention in Peoria when I heard about the opening. They did not even take out a building permit. When approached, they said they would get one, and ignored the city in every way."

"Yesterday (Thursday), while most of the city officials were out of town, they opened the doors."

Mayor Schuler said he has been told someone quoted him as having talked to Rice about the messenger service. "Contrary to him saying he talked to me, he did talk to me at anytime and, to the best of my knowledge, never even tried to contact my office."

Missouri

Agency acting director, told the annual meeting of the Institute for Environmental Quality last week at Champaign that intense study is being given to new strategies to ease the particulate situation in Granite City.

South Chicago and Decatur.

KTVI's widely-criticized report entitled "Who's poisoning our children?" ended mildly Friday after attempting to build up to a big impact with the aid of saturation advertising throughout the week.

The station acknowledged that the Press-Record had opposed its approach in Thursday's issue, and also showed briefly a tape of the Illinois EPA's Dave Kolatz saying lead-in-air readings here are no cause for alarm.

Channel Two said it unamused other Illinois EPA officials may not agree with Kolatz, and concluded that "many questions remain to be answered." Then came the confusing footage of an NL titanium plant in Missouri rather than NL's lead plant in Granite City.

The massive attention — on what the state says is a non-existent lead problem in Granite City — is regarded by some viewers as a reflection of ratings pressure on TV 2.

Carrying many high-rated entertainment programs, the ABC affiliate in contrast has had a long-time problem of trying to attract watchers for the news shows.

As a kind of "shock treatment" to get the public's attention at any cost, viewers say, Channel Two last week began asserting it was "terrifying" news involving "hundreds and perhaps thousands."

It repeated often that "irreversible" able brain damage" may have occurred.

Regardless of its source, lead in Granite City air is well within safe amounts and compares well with the rest of the United States, Illinois authorities have responded.

A projected federal standard would permit five micrograms of lead per cubic meter of air. All ten monitoring stations here average less than two micrograms.

A belief that much of the lead-in-air that is here could drift over from Missouri takes into account the prevailing wind from the southwest. Granite City readings are higher on that side of the city than farther north and east.

Averages are 1.95 at 15th Street and Madison Avenue, 1.01 at 19th and Adams, 1.00 at the YMCA, .96 at 23rd Madison, .84 at 2001 E. 20th St. (where the highest particulate reading in the state has been recorded), 1.08 at Roosevelt-Rock Road, 71 at Frohardt School, .65 at 23rd Nameaki, .70 at Lake School and .42 at the Norfolk and Western railroad tracks.

The bulk of lead in air is attributed to motor vehicles.

THEFTS FROM CARS
Eight wheel covers and two batteries were stolen from a new car and a new pickup truck at Granite City Dodge, 1911 Madison Ave., it was discovered Thursday. A spare tire and wheel also were taken from the pickup truck.

WALKS INTO AUTO
Michael Simpson, 17, of 1824 Market St., Madison, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital last week for an injury to his left knee he said was sustained when he walked into an auto. X-rays were taken and he was released.

College fair

The 1977 National College Fair will offer services and answers questions on college planning and admission.

The fair will be held at the St. Louis Gateway Convention and Exhibition Center Tuesday, Nov. 15, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and 6 p.m. to 9 p.m., and Wednesday, Nov. 16, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Admission is free to the event, which is expected to attract 5,000 persons.

The National College Fair offers many services to acquaint the prospective student of any age with how to find the college or university which best fits his or her needs. Representatives from about 180 colleges, universities and career schools from around the U.S. will be on hand to discuss their institutions' programs and facilities.

The local area fair is one of about 15 fairs sponsored yearly by the National Association of College Admissions Counselors, a nonprofit educational association serving college admissions and financial aid officers and secondary school counselors.

The National College Fair program is now in its fifth year. Over a half-million persons have attended the 32 fairs held.

Cancer Society sets 'Great Smokeout Day'

The American Cancer Society is asking 10 million smokers to stop smoking for one day, with the "Great Smokeout" set for Thursday, Nov. 17, according to Thad Carter, Madison County Cancer Unit board chairman.

To accomplish the task, the American Cancer Society is going to ask all non-smokers to get pledges from smokers to abstain from smoking Nov. 17. Pledge cards and related materials may be obtained from the Cancer Society office, 528 Henry St., Alton, or by calling 1-465-7821.

Carter said the prime focus of the "Great American Smokeout" is on the 33 million cigarette smokers in the USA. "Our goal is to reach 20 per cent of these smokers, roughly 10 million, and we hope to reach 100,000 in Illinois."

The main premise behind the one-day-away-from-cigarette is to show smokers that control of the smoking habit comes a day at a time.

"It is the sense of control that is so important. Each cigarette not smoked is a health benefit for the smoker," Carter said. Some fire departments also are joining in the smokeout campaign, with one fire chief noting that each year an average of 1,800 Americans die in fires caused by smoking and also burn up $95 million in property.

"Maybe Nov. 17 will be one day without a single fire caused by smoking," the fire chief said. "That alone would make the 'Great American Smokeout' a success."

Dr. Benjamin T. Rose, Granite City optometrist, has returned from the 70th annual educational congress and convention of the Illinois Optometric Association at the Continental Regency Hotel in Peoria.

Among the lecturers featured at the educational program were John Otten, MD, a physician of Peoria, speaking on the topic of Emergency Medical Procedures for the Optometric Office; Fred Lane, Chicago attorney, speaking on the topic of Malpractice Lawsuits and the Optometric Practitioner; and Theodore Grosvener, OD, Ph.D., dean of the Illinois College of Optometry, speaking on the topic of New Optometric Diagnostic Evaluation Techniques.

Also featured at the Congress was the election of the new state officers for the Illinois Optometric Association. According to Dr. Rose, the education program was "one of the outstanding informative programs offered this year. It gave the practitioner an excellent understanding of his position in relation to the consumer-patient."

"The meeting also provided new information about the field of optometry which will enable me to provide better visual health care to my patients."

Cite builders' safety record

The Southern Illinois Builders Association was presented the 1977 National Safety Council association award for employee safety at its 1977 fall membership meeting.

The SIBA is one of only six associations in the U.S. to receive the award this year. It is the fourth consecutive year the SIBA has won the award. Ralph Korte, president, accepted the award on behalf of the association.

Barbara Danciewicz, coordinator of association programs, National Safety Council, who presented the award, said it "symbolizes a combined achievement of both the association staff and SIBA members who participate actively in its safety program."

"These participants deserve the recognition of the National Safety Council, governmental agencies, members of the association, their employees and others for their contribution to safety and health."

SIBA, headquartered in Belleville with a branch office in Marion, has a membership of more than 600 firms which perform building, heavy and utilities construction in 39 counties of Southern Illinois. The association strives to make safety a part of production, educate apprentices, promote safety education in the construction management curriculum, and include it in labor agreements.

SIBA's safety training efforts concentrate on getting both management and labor to develop positive attitudes which allow them to find and solve problems. The SIBA staff does not teach, but structures training and information to help the member and his employees in identifying safety problems and solutions.

The safety program is under the direction of Leonard Boyer, SIBA director of industrial relations. He is assisted in the program by Bob York, branch manager of the SIBA office in Marion.

Boyer, a resident of Fairview Heights, serves as volunteer Red Cross first-aid chairman for St. Clair County.

Hearing sought to keep paperboard mill in use

The Alton Box Board Company has announced that the next step it will take in its continuing efforts to keep its Alton paperboard mill open and operating will be to file a request for an adjudicatory hearing before an administrative law judge.

The company's request will seek to reverse a decision by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to deny renewal of the company's operating permit for the Alton mill.

The company said it will file the request for a hearing with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency this week but that it does not know how long it will take to learn whether the request is to be granted.

The Sierra Club, an environmental group, is among those siding with the company against the EPA.

Alton Box Board resumed normal operations at its paperboard mill yesterday. The mill was shut down temporarily for two weeks in October in order to adjust inventory with sales demand.

When the temporary shutdown was announced in mid-October, employees were advised that resumption could be anticipated for Oct. 30 and that they should report for work on the basis unless otherwise advised.

The shutdown had no effect on the mill's production.

comprehensive wastewater treatment program and the hearing held in Alton Oct. 6 by the federal and Illinois Environmental Protection Agencies.

Alton Box Board Co. operates 50 plants in 15 states and employs 4,500 persons. The company is engaged in paperboard production, paper reclamation and the manufacture of corrugated shipping containers, folding cartons and paper tube products.

Record year for Amsted

AMSTED Industries last week reported that sales and net income reached all-time highs in the fiscal year ended Sept. 30, 1977.

Sales of $545,800,000 in fiscal 1977 were up $47,300,000, or nine per cent, from last year. Increases in every major product category contributed to the record sales.

General industrial product sales increased 16 per cent to a new high of $148,300,000, reflecting improvement in the general economy.

Sales of construction and building products rose 3 per cent to a record $147,400,000 due principally to a higher level of housing starts.

Railroad product sales were $250,100,000, up $15,300,000, or 7 per cent, resulting primarily from an unusually high demand for components for repair and maintenance of existing freight cars.

Net income for the year of $55,800,000 was up 4 per cent from $54,200,000 a year ago. Earnings per share were $5.82, compared to $5.48 in 1976. Net income amounted to 6.5 per cent of net sales in 1977 compared to 6.9 per last year.

Joseph B. Lanterman, chairman, and Goff Smith, president, said: "In addition to being favorably affected by higher sales, earnings were also favorably affected by a substantial increase in the investment tax credit and by somewhat lower scrap costs."

"Net income, however, was unfavorably affected by start-up costs at four new plants and by a six-month work stoppage at the Winnipeg, Canada, wheel plant."

"Higher costs of substitute fuels during the severe weather conditions in January and February also affected earnings unfavorably."

The executives noted that in the first half of the fiscal year, business continued on downward trend, with net income amounting to $2.31 per share compared to $3.31 in the first half of 1976.

Business was on an upward trend in the second half of the fiscal year and per-share earnings amounted to $4.31 compared to $3.07 in 1976.

In June 1977, the quarterly dividend payment was increased 10 per cent to 55 cents per share from the 50 cents per share paid in the prior five quarters.

This resulted in a record dividend of $2.10 per share in fiscal 1977, up 9 per cent from $1.95 per share in fiscal 1976. Dividends totaling $11,292,000 were paid to stockholders in 1977, compared to $10,465,000 last year.

the year. The Keokuk, Iowa, steel wheel plant, the Claremore, Okla., piston pin plant and the West Chicago, Ill., brake shoe plant.

All of these plants began production during the fiscal year and the Claremore and West Chicago plants were approaching full production by year-end. The wheel plant at Keokuk will be ready for full operation in the second quarter of 1978.

In addition to the three new plants, large expenditures were made to purchase and modernize a coil coating plant near Houston, Texas, acquired during the first quarter of the fiscal year. Renovation of this facility should be completed during the second quarter of fiscal 1978 and will add considerably to our metal coating capacity, it was related.

Lanterman and Smith said that, based on present plans, expenditures for property additions in the next two fiscal years, excluding acquisitions, are expected to total $60,000,000. In addition to the completion of the new coil coating facility, large capital expenditures will be made at the company's steel foundries in Alliance, Ohio, and Indiana Harbor, Ind., to increase capacity for production of freight car components.

AMSTED's American Steel Foundries division has a major rail product plant in Granite City.

Net current assets or working capital at Sept. 30 were up from the level a year ago.

Accounts receivable were up 25 per cent from last year's level, but the number of days' sales outstanding was down from a year ago.

Inventories were up 25 per cent from last year. AMSTED had no long term debt at the end of this year or last year.

At its meeting, the board of directors proposed an increase in the number of authorized shares of common stock from 10,000,000 to 25,000,000 shares.

This proposal will be acted upon by stockholders at the Jan. 24, 1978 annual meeting. AMSTED has no definite plans for use of these additional shares but considers it desirable to have them available for possible stock dividends, stock splits and other corporate purposes.

There are currently 6,245,800 common shares issued, of which 5,380,480 are outstanding.

AMSTED's backlog of orders at Sept. 30 amounted to $170,000,000, up 34 per cent from $127,000,000 a year earlier.

Unfilled orders for railroad freight car components, which continue to represent the largest portion of the backlog, increased significantly from last year's level.

The backlog of general industrial products is up substantially from a year ago, reflecting an improvement in the general economy.

Orders for construction and building products, which continue to represent the smallest portion of the backlog, are also up from last year, principally because of improvement in the housing market.

Lanterman and Smith said, "A further improvement in the general economy and a continued high level of housing starts are anticipated in fiscal 1978."

"These factors, coupled with an expected increase in the building rate of new freight cars, should result in another excellent year for AMSTED."

AMSTED Industries' board of directors declared a quarterly dividend of 65 cents per share payable on Dec. 15, to stockholders of record as of the close of business on Nov. 18. This is an increase of 18 per cent from the 55-cent dividend paid quarterly since June 1977.

Commission founder dies

Funeral services were held Thursday in Mexico for Guillermo B. Oropeza, 80, a former long-time resident and founder of the Granite City Mexican Honorary Commission 51 years ago.

Mr. Oropeza died Oct. 26 at a hospital in Aguascalientes, Mexico, following a lengthy illness.

A resident of Granite City for 52 years, Mr. Oropeza came to the United States in 1916 at the age of 13. He worked briefly for the railroads and then was employed by Laclede Steel Co. in Alton about 47 years.

He remained at the Alton plant until retiring in 1962. At that time he was suffering with a respiratory ailment and returned to his birthplace at Aguascalientes.

Mr. Oropeza was unmarried and devoted a major portion of his life here to the Mexican Honorary Commission, founding the organization in 1926 to keep alive the cultural heritage of the Mexican people.

He served as commission president on five occasions. When the organization became inactive for a period of time in the 1950s, Mr. Oropeza organized fund raising events and invested about $1,000 of his own money in 1960 in a successful effort to regenerate the ethnic group.

Last year, at the commission's 50th anniversary celebration, a special plaque was awarded to Mr. Oropeza. It was accepted by Mrs. Jack (Victoria) Barton, a niece, and delivered to him in Aguascalientes.

He was a former member of St. Joseph Catholic Church here. Surviving are a brother and a sister in Aguascalientes and several nieces, including Mrs. Barton, who now resides at Rural Route Two, Box 163, Alhambra, Ill.

Burial was in the church cemetery at Aguascalientes, Mexico.

Will prosecute vandals—Maeras

"It is unfortunate that in the past, the actions of a few youngsters bent on vandalism, give a bad name to all trick-or-treaters."

"It is also unfortunate that a very few persons resort to placing foreign substances in candy given to trick-or-treaters. I strongly urge that parents make every responsible effort to insure that the candy obtained by their children is checked before the children eat it."

"I feel it imperative to urge such action by parents to see to it that their children are not harmed by the actions of a few inconsiderate persons."

"Any person found responsible for placing foreign substances in the candy given to children, with the intent of causing physical harm, will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law."

"Parents who detect foreign substances being placed in candy given their children, are strongly urged to report such activity to the sheriff's office immediately. Detectives will be instructed that an immediate investigation into such acts will be conducted."

"Parents and youngsters should also be advised that curfew laws, as in the past, will be enforced. Juveniles found to be in violation of curfew laws will have such acts directed to the juvenile office of the sheriff's department where appropriate action will be taken against violators. Parents should make every effort to insure that their children abide by state curfew regulations."

"With everyone, parents and children, following basic rules, the Halloween season can be enjoyed by everyone in Madison County," he concluded.

The sheriff's department serves the unincorporated areas of the county and suspicious activities may be reported by calling 1-692-4422.

Madison County Sheriff John Maeras said today that his department is taking every possible precaution to stop vandalism and mischief tonight. A public statement by Maeras follows:

"Since Oct. 1, to date, 77 acts of vandalism have been reported to the sheriff's office. Though it is difficult to state that all these incidents are 'Halloween season' related, it appears that in recent days several of the incidents reported could well fall into the category of Halloween pranks."

"Damages to property, although not totally destructive, tend to be bothersome to the property owner. Several acts of vandalism, as reported thus far this month, fall into the category of being destructive and expensive."

"It is anticipated that such acts of vandalism and mischief will continue, especially tonight. Vandalism of any type will not be tolerated."

"Increased patrols in the unincorporated areas of Madison County will be conducted in an effort to reduce acts of vandalism and to identify suspicious persons who might be regarded as potential vandalism offenders. Patrolling deputy sheriffs will attempt to identify any person or persons responsible for any acts of vandalism and will be instructed to see that appropriate judicial action be taken against these persons."

"Since it appears that the suspects, in most of these cases, are juveniles, parents are urged to caution their children against engaging in acts which would result in the destruction of other people's property and to advise the children of the possible legal consequences of such acts."

"Residents of unincorporated areas are urged to report any signs of suspicious activity to the sheriff's department so that patrolling deputies can check on the suspicious activities."

College salaries slipping

At its next meeting tomorrow, the Illinois Board of Higher Education will receive fiscal 1978-79 budget requests from colleges and universities. The meeting will be on the campus of Chicago State University.

Appropriations for higher education operations and grants totaled over $978 million this year, according to James Furman, executive director of the board.

"Colleges and universities and other programs funded by the state are asking for a total increase of $142 million or 16 per cent for the 1978-79 academic year," Furman said.

"Because salaries equal and easier. The $457,000 project is well ahead of schedule. With the new Route 3 open, traffic is increasing.

about 80 per cent of the base funding for any given year, the requests in this area are of primary importance."

Furman said pay requests by public colleges and universities range from 8 to 10 1/2 per cent. "Each percentage increase in salaries costs about $6 million," he noted.

He said the board will receive a report which analyzes faculty salaries at Illinois colleges and universities. "This report measures salary increases since 1971 against both the rate of inflation over that period and salary increases at comparable institutions in other states," Furman related.

He said the report will indicate that salaries have lost ground to inflation and that Illinois institutions have slipped in rankings with comparable institutions.

"Obviously, the issue of an adequate and feasible salary increase is a major decision facing the Board of Higher Education," he concluded. The board will announce its recommendations in January 1978, and they will be considered by the General Assembly and governor during the spring legislative session.

The board tomorrow will make appointments to an advisory group, the Education Television Commission, and review a report of fall 1977 enrollments.

It will receive requests at its November meeting for higher education construction totaling $345.8 million; $34.2 million was appropriated for new construction in this fiscal year.

Court bars use of conference center

A permanent injunction restraining Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville from using the Olin Conference and Cultural Center in Fairmont (Alton area) for purposes other than residential was issued Thursday by Circuit Judge Moses Harrison in the Third Circuit Court at Edwardsville.

Use of the center had been suspended since May 2, when Fairmount residents obtained a temporary injunction preventing the University from using the former mansion of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Olin as a conference site.

University President Kenneth A. Shaw said he is "gravely concerned" by the judge's decision. The matter has been turned over to the university's general counsel, Larry French, for advice.

The Olin home and estate, overlooking the Mississippi River north of Alton, were given to SIUE by Mr. and Mrs. Olin in May 1975 with the stipulation that the facilities would be used exclusively for charitable, cultural, scientific, literary and educational purposes.

In September 1976, the university established an experimental use period for the center, from Oct. 1, 1976 through June 30, 1977, to make a comprehensive evaluation of the types of programs and activities which could be held consistent with the Olin's stipulations. About 15 events were held at the center during the experimental use period.

In April 1977, Robert F. Quinn and other residents of Fairmount filed suit for an injunction based on a Fairmount covenant adopted when the subdivision was developed in the 1920s, stipulating that land in Fairmount was to be used for residential purposes only.

Bill to revise joint elections

New legislation being introduced in the Illinois General Assembly at its October session could ensure smooth and equitable administration of the state's recently-enacted election consolidation law, in the opinion of Michael E. Lavelle, chairman of the State Board of Elections.

Signed last month by Gov. James R. Thompson, the controversial law was under study and preparation for more than 10 years by the Illinois Election Laws Commission, Lavelle says.

The governor said he is "in strong support of the ideals and goals" of election consolidation and suggested that ambiguities in the language of the new law be corrected.

The bill just introduced contains corrective measures to:

1. Prevent the reduction of terms of office for some municipal officials.
2. Allow for emergency tax referenda upon approval of the courts.
3. Clarify the filling of vacancies in office.

"These are the ambiguous areas that are of concern to certain groups," Lavelle said, "and the new bill would completely and successfully negate their objections."

Lavelle comments, "One of the most important reasons for consolidation of elections in Illinois is that the state has more units of local government than any other in the country. Reducing the number of separate elections can bring order to an otherwise chaotic election schedule."

In the past, voters were called on repeatedly to vote on separate bond issues, tax levies, etc., and often didn't even know an election was occurring. They most likely discovered they had been taxed by various bodies when the bad news came in their tax bills.

"According to one survey, Illinois citizens voted in 121 different elections held over nearly 200 days in 1976. In some areas, to vote in all elections, a voter had to visit the polls seven times in three months."

"The typical voter was asked to vote for money for one or more of the 6,400 units of government required by law to ask for approval to increase their tax levy."

"With this number of local government units, it is almost impossible for taxpayer watchdog groups to keep track of the dates and times of elections and to alert the public to the implications of their accumulated effect on taxes," said Lavelle.

The new law provides for five election days over a two-year period. There would be a primary in March and a consolidated general election in November of even-numbered years for election of federal, state and county officers, plus judges, officers of incorporated towns and some municipal officers.

During odd-numbered years, a primary would be held in February and a partisan general election in April to choose some mayors, village presidents, trustees, clerks and some municipal officers, highway commissioners and some officers of special districts and townships.

In November of odd-numbered years, there would be a nonpartisan election to choose members of school and community college boards, trustees of some special districts and nonpartisan aldermanic or other posts.

Mayors, city clerks and city treasurers in partisan elections would face a primary in February 1979 and a general election two months later under the law. They then would face elections on the same schedule every two or four years, depending on local law.

"Different rules apply to different offices under the measure, but generally only a few weeks adjustment of their terms would be required," Lavelle says.

"If an officeholder is required to submit to an election sooner than under previous law, his term would be shortened to expire a few weeks after the new election day."

"Similarly, the terms of aldermen would be extended or shortened to match the new partisan election dates in November of even years and April of odd years."

"The bill now under consideration would remedy any serious disruption of officials' terms."

"Voters will be more aware of election days. And since all of the taxing bodies will have to request funds on these dates, except in emergencies, the voter will be unlikely to miss an election through lack of knowledge that it was taking place."

"This certainly can result in greater voter participation, and the elections will reflect larger representation of the people."

Workshop for mature students

A one-day continuing education workshop for mature students interested in enrolling in college for the first time or continuing an interrupted education will be held Nov. 21 at SIUE.

Mrs. Louise Saunders, academic adviser, said the workshop will be conducted from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. in Room 1310 of the John S. Rendieman Building. There will be no charge for attendance. Pre-registration deadline is Nov. 16.

She said it is designed for adults who feel they need a career change or who would like to go to school to gain marketable skills they have not had previously.

"It is not just for women who feel they are in a rut, but for men, too, who find that stagnation is a dull, crippling disease," she said.

Participants will discuss how to enter college without a high school diploma and how to gain college credit from life's experience. They will receive career and personal interest testing, as well as group and individual counseling. Financial aid programs will be discussed.

What a game!

What a game! No matter what the teams' records, the stands will always be filled. The bands will always play just a little bit louder. The fans will cheer just a little bit harder.

And even the players will play just a little bit harder. When Granite City's two high schools get together in anything, gigantic interest is due to develop. It's that way with any cross-town rivalry. But when it's time for the North-South football game, it's time for something just a little more festive.

There's something about the cool autumn air, the bands playing and the large crowd.

And playing your rival from the other side of town.

North regained the "city title" this year, winning 17-7. But it wasn't a runaway. North-South games never are.

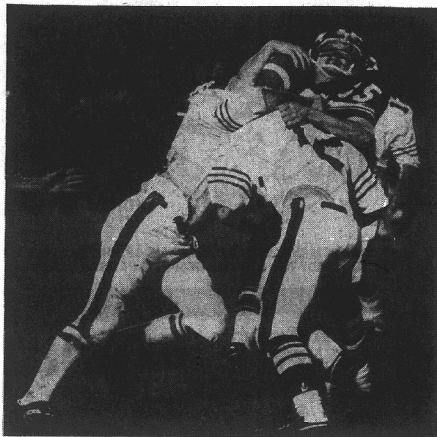

The game had everything. A kickoff return for a touchdown, fumbles, long runs . . . you name it; it was there.

No doubt about it.

Options on GC North basketball season tickets

Gilbert Walmsley, principal at Granite City North, announced today that the Board of Education has approved a plan to offer three options for purchasing adult season passes for the Steeler home basketball games.

Beginning today, adults may purchase one of the passes at the main office of North from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. The options include a non-reserved pass for $12.50, a reserved seat pass for $15.50, or a personalized reserved seat pass for $18.50. Each adult may select his seat at the time of the purchase.

The regular adult admission price is $2 per game. A non-reserved pass holder will save $7.50 and a reserved seat pass holder will save $4.50.

The Steelers' first home basketball game is Saturday, Dec. 3, against Madison at 6:30 p.m. in the Memorial Gymnasium.

Jiles aiding undefeated

Blueboys of Illinois College

The only undefeated team (6-0) in the state, the Illinois College Blueboys, firmly situated among the premier small college football teams in the country — with the 3rd ranking in NAIA Division II — is receiving plenty of help from a former Madison High School football standout, Mark Jiles.

Jiles, a 5-8, 200-pound sophomore defensive tackle, is a dedicated player who is seeing his second season of play under the coaching of Blueboy leader Joe Brooks. The coach says Mark will be seeing plenty of action in the future at Illinois College in Jacksonville.

While at Madison High he lettered in football and track, and also was line captain of his squad in his senior year.

He is the son of Mrs. Helen Jiles, 119 W. 2nd St., Madison.

Dutchmen get their kicks from a couple of GC Mikes

Granite Cityans were on target Saturday as the host Belleville Area College Dutchmen defeated the Forest Park Community College soccer team, 4-2.

Don Kaiping put BAC in front after 22 minutes of the 80-minute game but within two more minutes the score was deadlocked.

Granite City's Mike Austin

booted in a penalty kick at the 49-minute mark and then tallied his second goal of the game after 64 minutes to give the Dutchmen a 3-1 advantage.

Forest Park made it 3-2 at the 66-minute mark, but Granite City's Mike Voegelé succeeded on a penalty shot with five minutes left to play.

Adult swim times extended

Due to a high demand, the Tri-City Area YMCA is extending its adult lap swim time to include a special time for senior citizens. The new time will be 9:45 a.m. on Monday and Wednesday.

The program is for Tri-City Area "Y" members, 60 years of age and older, and special membership rates are available. The "Y" indoor pool is maintained at a temperature of 82 to 84 degrees year-round.

The "Y" is continuing to offer a senior citizen fitness class and an instructional swim class. Interested persons may contact Ed Mercer, physical director, at the YMCA at 876-7200 for further information.

Trojans hold off St. Charles

Broderick Rivers must be feeling just fine. Greg Danbridge is probably feeling even better.

Those two Madison Trojans teamed up in a single defensive play Friday night in St. Charles that they will remember for a long time.

It came in the second quarter and helped Madison to a 7-0 win over St. Charles West.

It was Madison's fourth victory of the year and ended a three-game losing streak.

The big play occurred when Rivers broke through the West line and kicked a punt.

In the scramble for the football, Danbridge scooped it up and rambled 20 yards into the end zone.

Joe Piechocinski kicked the extra point to make the score 7-0, Madison.

It appeared as if the score could well end up just that way. The two teams played between the 20-yard lines after that.

That is, until West mounted a drive late in the game. It ended in a five-yard TD run by West's Terry Fox. Score: Madison 7, St. Charles West 6.

Yoga fitness class offered

The Tri-City YMCA is now offering a unique Yoga-fitness combination class for women on Tuesday and Thursday nights from 8 to 8:45 p.m. The class features relaxation, breathing and flexibility exercises and will also include light jogging geared to the needs of each individual.

It was the annual Parents Day game at Cougar Field, and for the past three years the pairing had produced 7-0, 5-2 and 5-0 consecutive wins for SIUE.

But the northwesterners turned the tide. 3-2, Wisconsin struck with suddenness as Milan Stojavljevic, the Panthers' striker, sped almost un-

A two-point conversion could win it for West. You see, there was only one minute and five seconds remaining in the game.

What a time to mount a drive. Enter Anthony King.

King pursued to his left and stopped an end-sweep by West to foil the two-point run try and save the Trojans' fourth victory of the year.

Madison's Ronald Morris was the leading ground gainer for the Trojans. But it wasn't really all that much. He carried the ball 15 times for a total of 38 yards.

It turned out to be one of those nights when Madison quarterback Joe Piechocinski had to go to the air. He did. Effectively.

Instructors for the class will be Ellen Wilson and Lee Suarez. The class will run from Tuesday, Nov. 1, through Thursday, Nov. 24.

The program fee is $2 for members and $10 for non-members for the eight meetings. Those wishing to register for the class may call the "Y" at 876-7200.

Cougars suffer upset, 3-2

Judging from the overwhelming victories which the SIUE soccer team had scored in previous games against the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, no one could fault the Cougars and their loud and large crowd from believing that they would prevail over the visitors Saturday.

It was the annual Parents Day game at Cougar Field, and for the past three years the pairing had produced 7-0, 5-2 and 5-0 consecutive wins for SIUE.

But the northwesterners turned the tide. 3-2, Wisconsin struck with suddenness as Milan Stojavljevic, the Panthers' striker, sped almost unchallenged toward the goal and, at the last second, passed off to left-winger Lito Zabala, who blasted the ball past Bob Hobson.

Robson was making his first start in goal since being injured in the Cougars' Oct. 12 loss to the University of Missouri-St. Louis.

Ranked eighth nationally, the poised Cougars tied it at 2-15 on a header by Dan Ebert from a pass by Matt Malloy. The crowd breathed a sigh of relief when SIUE moved in front 2-1 at 50:28 on a goal by Chris Cacciatore on a pass from Dave Hundert.

Stojavljevic scored unassisted on hustle and skill at "Pie" hit on four of 12 passes for 72 yards and no interceptions. However, Madison was outgained in total yards by West, 186-135.

Piechocinski's main target Friday night was Tim Colston. He snared two aerials for 62 of those 72 yards.

The Madison ground attack, which was so powerful at the beginning of this season, was throttled and held to a mere 62 yards for the entire game. West had 186 but Madison had the most points on the scoreboard.

The Trojans will end their regular season this Friday (Nov. 4) when they travel to DuPont for a 7:30 p.m. clash with one of the area's top-ranked teams.

With five minutes and 53 seconds left in the game, Stojavljevic struck again. After his solo dribble through the middle, he passed to Ali - Hourmohadian, whose kick booted the goalkeeper easily.

SIUE outlasted the visitors 3-1.

Now 8-3-1, the Cougars must beat St. Louis U. Friday night in the Bronze Box game at Francis Field to keep their hopes alive for a post-season National Collegiate Athletic Association tourney bid.

Bloom buys Jeff City auto track

Officials of the Gateway Auto Racing Association announced Saturday night that they have dissolved their long-standing affiliation with Tri-City Speedway in Granite City and will sanction races next year at Capital Speedway, Jefferson City, Mo.

Promoter Ed Bloom,

president of Gateway Auto Racing Association, has purchased the Capital Speedway, sources indicate. The announcement leaves Tri-City without specific promotion plans for next year, but negotiations during the winter are anticipated.

Sherman rushes for 181 yards

North nabs city grid crown, 17-7

PICKING UP yardage in Friday's annual North-South football game is Steeler running back Mike Sherman (44). He did quite a bit of running, gaining a game-high 181 yards rushing on 26 attempts. North regained the city championship, 17-7. He is being pursued here by South's Keith Greene.

Instead of Sherman's march to the sea, it was Sherman's march to the end zone that spelled defeat for the South this time around.

The last time a Sherman doomed a gang from the South his name was William Tecumseh. This time it was Mike.

With two touchdowns and 181 yards rushing, the Granite City North halfback almost single-handedly ripped the Warrior defense as his team won the annual city football championship over South 17-7 Friday night at Granite City Stadium before a huge crowd.

Sherman's second TD was the game-breaker. It came on a 47-yard run after a pitchout from quarterback Doug Rains.

He broke two tackles, reversed field and flew into the end zone to break open a previously tight game.

The way the game began, however, it quickly became obvious that it was going to be another one of those nights... for a North-South football battle, that is.

South's defense continued to hold the Steelers in check. North moved well between the 20s, but wasn't able to push the ball over the goal line until there

Yardstick

Yards passing	20	26

Mahaffey ran to the right, broke through a couple of North defenders, and tipped down the sidelines 95 yards for a touchdown.

With Tim Kirksey's extra point, the score was 7-0 and only 23 seconds had ticked off the clock.

After the ensuing kickoff, the Steelers of North seemingly weren't to be denied. They marched all the way down to the Warrior three-yard line, where they had a first-and-goal situation. But no dice.

THE SOUTH DEFENSE rose to the occasion and stopped the Steelers cold on four straight tries and took over possession on the Warriors' one-yard line. Talk about your basic goal line stands! Upset time?

Not quite.

SOUTH'S defense continued to hold the Steelers in check. North moved well between the 20s, but wasn't able to push the ball over the goal line until there was 5:42 remaining in the first half.

That was when General... uh, Mike Sherman plowed in from two yards out for his first TD of the night.

Tim Bowman's extra point kicked the score at 7-7 and that's the way the half ended.

On that drive, the Steelers went to the air... something they haven't done with much frequency this season.

The key pass was an eight-yarder to Keith Atkins from Quarterback Rains that ended at the South two.

"THEY WERE STACKING us up pretty good in the middle," said North coach Tom Wyrostek. "We had to pass to keep 'em honest."

"They had us defended pretty well overall," he added.

In the third period, North again moved the pigskin deep into Warrior territory. But the Steelers were stopped at the four-yard line and went for a Bowman field goal.

The Steeler kicker split the uprights with 2:36 showing on the clock and North was ahead to stay, 10-7.

BUT NO ONE was too sure of that until Sherman's 47-yard scamper that clinched the city crown for North.

But even in victory, Wyrostek wasn't 100 per cent pleased.

"We didn't execute well on that goal line stand in the first quarter," he said. "The blocking wasn't there. It was in the fourth quarter, through."

North dominated the yardage statistics, outgaining the Warriors 254-114. But the Warriors seemed to be able to run against North as well as they have been able to against anyone this season.

Doyle Beard led the South runners with 47 yards on 15 carries.

But it was his defense that got the most praise from South mentor Stan Wojcik.

"I thought our defense was outstanding," he said. "We were trying to play ball-control when we got it. But when the defense was out there three-fourths of the time, they got it back for the offense plenty of times."

North's Wyrostek added that he thought his team might have been a little too fired-up for the game.

"Our blocking broke down several times. I think our emotion was too high. That hurts the favorite and helps the underdog."

But it didn't help South quite enough this time.

North, South kickers to square off

Well, here we go again. We're going to have another North-South battle on our hands and this time, it REALLY means something.

After winning each of their respective soccer sub-sectionals, Granite North and South are now on a collision course that will end up in a clash this Wednesday at 3 p.m. in the South sectional tournament.

North won its sub-sectional on Thursday. South won its meet Friday.

The Steelers defeated Belleville East 4-0, with all four goals being scored by different players.

The first was by Mike Fitzgerald on a penalty kick. It came at the 17:53 mark of the first quarter.

Then it was Marty Dooley's turn. He snared an Eric Thornburg pass just two minutes later and slammed in a goal to make it 2-0.

Jeff Demos scored the next Steeler goal on another penalty kick at the 59:35 mark in the third quarter, and Bob Batey got an unassisted goal in the final period.

But North's Bob Kehoe wasn't entirely pleased by his team's showing. "We weren't passing the ball as well as I thought we should," he said. "We seemed to be standing around out there."

"We're going to have to play a lot better Wednesday."

SPEAKING OF WEDNESDAY, the Steelers' opposition, South, also registered a shutout in the championship game. The Warriors beat Cahokia 5-0.

Greg Feigl was virtually the whole story. He scored three goals to bring his season total to 35 and established himself as the new all-time South season scoring champ. The old record was 33, held by David Goldschmidt last year and his brother Mark this season.

Mark still can break Feigl's record, and David Bennington (class of '74).

Feigl started the scoring at the 6:22 mark of the first quarter on an assist from David Fernandez.

Mike Marler was next up for the Warriors. He was assisted on his goal by Mark Goldschmidt.

Feigl then took over and scored the next two goals, at 5:12 in the third quarter and at 16:28 of the same period, both on Mark Goldschmidt assists.

Goldschmidt next got into the act himself, scoring an unassisted tally at the 10:28 mark of the final quarter.

"I was really pleased with the way we passed the ball around in the first quarter," said South coach Gene Baker.

In the first game of the sectional, the winner from the Quincy sub-sectional will play Collinsville Tuesday afternoon at 3.

The championship game will be at 3 p.m. Friday. All games will be at GCHS South. There will be a $1 admission charge.

"But the game now is Wednesday. How will each coach prepare his team?"

"Oh, we might make a few changes," said Baker. "Sort of try and surprise them."

"But at this point in the season, there's not a whole lot you can do to change things."

As somebody famous once said, "You have to dance with who brings ya' there."

The "dance" starts at 3 p.m. Wednesday.

FIGHTING for the ball during Friday's South-Cahokia sub-sectional championship game is Warrior Greg Feigl (left). He scored three goals in the game to tie and then break the school's all-time season scoring record. He now has 35 goals in 1977.

North harriers going to sectional

Granite City North's star cross-country runner Mike Baker, suffering from bronchitis, finished second in the Class AA cross-country district mile course at Rock Springs Park in 14:32.

But the big news wasn't the second place finish by Baker. It was the fifth-place by the entire Steeler harrier squad. Fifth better than second!

Yep. The top five teams will advance to next Saturday's Springfield Lanphier sectional.

Belleville East won the meet. East St. Louis was second, West finished third and Alton fourth.

Granite City South's Warrior harriers finished seventh with 175 points.

The top three runners who were not members of winning teams also will go to the sectional Saturday. They will be Arthur Brooks from Lincoln, who finished a surprising fourth, Jeff Lukas of O'Fallon and Edwardsville's Ed Lamb.

Greg Stout was one of the highest finishers. He placed eleventh with a time of 17:36.

Tree will honor Tosovsky

A European linden tree will be planted in the northeast section of the ellipse at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and dedicated as a memorial to Ernest E. Tosovsky, a major benefactor of the university, Thursday at 2 p.m.

The ellipse is the oval pattern of roads and walkways between the central campus and the fan-shaped parking lots.

The tree, given by employees of Home Nursery Greenhouses, which was founded by Tosovsky, will be 12 feet high, with a trunk three inches in diameter.

Charles Schweizer, consultant for the SIUE Foundation, said the tree, a favorite of the Czechoslovakian people, has the potential of growing to 50 to 70 feet high, with a leaf spread of 30 to 40 feet.

Also to be dedicated at the site is a pair of concrete benches donated by the Edwardsville Rotary Club.

Bronze plaques, to be imbedded in concrete in front of the benches, are gifts of the SIUE Foundation and the Slavic and East European Friends.

SIUE President Kenneth A. Shaw will speak. Others participating will include representatives of Home Nursery, Edwardsville Rotary, the Foundation, the Slavic and East European Friends and the Tosovsky family.

A business, civic and religious leader until his death March 31, Tosovsky formerly owned land on which part of the central campus is located.

He was a major contributor and was awarded the SIUE Distinguished Service Award in 1971, in recognition of leadership in support of university objectives. He was a member of the SIUE Foundation board and a charter member of Slavic and East European Friends.

Tosovsky came here from his native Czechoslovakia in 1903 at the age of six and founded his nursery business in 1923. He was nationally recognized for his business endeavors and served Rotary International as governor of District 646, a Paul Harris fellow and a volunteer abroad in World Service.

GC Steel mill—as large and modern as any in Japan or Europe

Following are comments by George A. Stinson, National Steel Corporation chairman and chief executive officer, at the 37th annual meeting of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce here Thursday night.

I'm proud of the Granite City Steel Division, having had a deep personal involvement in it becoming a part of National Steel six years ago.

I have watched it with great personal satisfaction in that time become a highly-productive and important part of our overall corporation.

There are many sound reasons for its success and for viewing its future as bright.

Its growth and strength have been good for this community, its employees and its customers.

Through its contribution to the profitability of National Steel, it has benefited the corporation and its stockholders.

Much of the credit for its success is directly attributable to the fine leadership provided in the past by Nick Veder, Howard "Pete" Love and Bob McBride.

Now, under the able direction of Jim Stack, its newest and very capable president, I believe Granite City Steel as it approaches its 100th birthday next year, is entering a new era of greater service to the enormous markets which show so great a promise for further growth here, throughout mid-America and the south.

Granite City has four essential ingredients that are the hallmarks of its success. These are people, facilities, products and location.

Good people are a vital ingredient in the success of any enterprise, and Granite City has those kinds of people.

Our employees have responded to the challenges here in a positive way; and they are being encouraged to participate more and more in the management of the company.

They have been rewarded with good, steady pay and greater opportunity for advancement.

We believe in promoting from within the corporation wherever possible, and many of the people from Granite City have been selected for more responsible positions in the divisions and at corporate headquarters. I think this speaks extremely well of Granite City people.

The net result is that Granite City has become a more valuable steel resource base for the Tri-Cities area, not only in terms of greater capacity, but also in terms of being able to satisfy a wider range of needs for the product lines.

These are important factors for firms to consider when planning expansion or relocation of their manufacturing facilities in this area.

We are now beginning to see a very strong shift in metal stamping plants locating within Granite City's marketing area, with great growth potential over the next five years.

And you can be assured we are determined to be of greater service to the many good customers we already have here in automotive, agricultural, construction, consumer products, and other markets.

One final product area I would like to mention is Granite City Steel's products for the farm market.

Strongbar and Strongpanel products, and times, are practically household words throughout the farm community. We have recently expanded our sales activities to meet the growing demand for these attractive and durable products throughout the South and East.

A major strength of Granite City is its location, which has been variously described as being on the edge of the "sun belt," the "gateway to the West" and the "crossroads of America."

From a steelmaker's point of view, it means being close to coal and ore, having easy access to the Mississippi-Missouri-Ohio waterways, as well as excellent rail and highway transportation.

These are all factors that make this a prime location for a steel mill and for future expansion of such a mill.

Second, our facilities compare favorably with the best in the world. We have no plants that are candidates to be shut down and abandoned. And that applies first and foremost to our Granite City plant.

If I stopped here, you might well say to me that with all this accomplishment and optimistic outlook for the company, what is all this talk about the steel industry's problems, about which we have been hearing so much lately?

Well, let me assure you that the problems are there. Basically, there are two fundamental problems.

First: As an industry, we are not generating enough cash flow to meet the need to keep modernizing and expanding to serve the growing steel markets.

Second: Our markets are being invaded by cut-price steel produced abroad, sold here in most cases below their producers' costs and financed by foreign governments to support employment abroad.

The result of this unfair trade is that our own production and shipments and cash flow are all cut back.

Let me tell you now of some problems which we do not have, despite a lot of talk that you may have heard. Let me set out the three most important items about which you may have read.

First, we do not have a problem of lag in our technology or equipment. The industry does have a relatively small segment of less-modern mills, but so do the Japanese and Europeans. Some of these less-modern mills may be candidates for shutdown since money to modernize has not been spent.

Second, we do not suffer from poor productivity. Our manhours required to produce a ton of steel compare favorably with the best abroad.

Third, we do not have a cost disadvantage in servicing this market. Lower labor rates are paid abroad, but there are more than offset by the transportation costs to bring foreign steel to the American market.

All of the three points are fully confirmed by the government study made for President Carter three weeks ago.

The study criticizes our labor rates as being high, but these are generally competitive with rates paid in comparable basic industries in America.

And, who would turn back these rates to be equal to the low rates paid in Korea and Japan? Who is ready to reduce drastically the high standard of living which the working man in America has earned, with the key support which these labor rates provide for our whole economy?

This is a problem with no easy solution, a problem which is likely to be with us for quite a while. But we are not necessarily from one year to the next, because steel is a cyclical product and one heavily impacted by the economy, particularly the heavier steels—in a time such as now where we are still recovering from the recession of 1975-76.

But, over any meaningful period, our markets are healthy and growing. By 1985, we won't be able to service them completely with present capacity.

The steel industry abroad is in much worse condition than our industry here at home.

It suffers from two basic problems. World economies, particularly in Europe and Japan, have not recovered from the 1975-76 recession nearly to the degree our own economy has.

Some say that this is directly attributable to the four-fold increase in the price of oil and other energy, and perhaps they are right.

Meeting the steel costs of importing virtually all of their petroleum needs had drained off funds needed for capital spending in such countries as Italy, France and Japan. It has also contributed to high inflation rates.

Whatever the full scope of the causes, worldwide, with the major exception of the United States, Canada and other pockets such as Brazil and the Middle East, national economies are struggling and are still in deep recession.

Steel demand in Europe and Japan, particularly, is low, and it is only natural that these countries should turn to the United States as the only open steel market and the only reasonably healthy market to which they need to turn.

They have done that, and in greatly expanding amounts beginning in 1976.

Because the American steel buyer prefers to deal with nearby, convenient and quick domestic sources, the foreign steel producer must slash his prices to get the business.

Worse still, he must compete in the U.S. market with other foreign steel producers so that Korean, South African and producers in many other areas are slashing their prices further to undercut the Japanese and the Europeans.

The consequence is steel prices here which are well below the cost of foreign production, and sales thus routinely made at a loss.

Granite City Steel Corporation has been operating at a very substantial loss for years. This, they have sought to double their share of the U.S. market, their loss for the first six months of 1977 is estimated at about $400 million. I agree with the decision of the British Steel Corporation when he said recently, "This is a dreadful situation."

As a direct result of all these factors, virtually the entire world steel industry, outside of North America, is operating "in the red" and receiving money from their governments to cover their losses.

The object of these governments is, of course, to support employment on the home front. The second major difficulty abroad is that there is overcapacity resulting primarily from the very dramatic expansion of the Japanese steel industry over the past 15 years.

In an effort to keep its steel industry occupied, Japan has, with the same cut-price technique, taken over a major share of the third-country steel markets.

Japan supplies 70 per cent of all steel moving in world trade, leaving only 30 per cent for the rest of the world. This is a direct reversal of the proportions 10 years ago.

As a consequence, Europe has virtually closed its steel markets to the Japanese and has today, under Viscount Davignon of the European Economic Community, cut back on its production.

It is also seeking to retire older plants and shut down such as the United Kingdom and France.

All of this has created an acute situation in the world steel industry, which is accurately described as the worst crisis since the great depression of the 1930s.

Earlier this month, the International Iron and Steel Institute—composed of all of the steel producers of the Free World, and of which I have been serving as chairman—held its annual meeting in Rome.

You can be sure that this crisis was much in evidence as we heard presentations from Viscount Davignon and Mr. Angell, the chairman of Fiat, looking to the rationalization of the European industry.

The Institute itself, of course, does not address this problem, as it is a scientific and data-gathering organization not involved in seeking solutions to the world trade problems.

What should be the solution for the American steel industry as it is being defeated by the backlash of this critical world situation?

As to imports, we have sought for some time to create an understanding of the problem by our federal government and to induce governmental action to deal with it.

This was tough sledding because of the solid commitment of our government to world free trade, and the tendency to blame the American steel industry for all these problems.

Now, however, there is growing awareness in Washington that the steel import problem is a case of the abuse of free trade, rather than of free trade itself.

A deliberate raid on our markets with prices below cost—financed by foreign government—has not been kept in line with any of the rules of free trade and can only be dealt with by governmental action.

The President Carter has acknowledged this to be the case and the issue now has become how best to deal with it. The steel industry is apparently preferring to bring redress under the anti-dumping laws and has promised prompt action on the anti-dumping suits which have been filed, including one filed last week by National Steel with regard to steel from Japan.

Let us hope that this line of approach will be followed by the steel industry and that it will result in a prompt reduction in imports.

Foreign producers forced to sell in this market at competitive prices at or above their costs will find a great drop-off in their orders.

If the anti-dumping approach does not work, and work promptly, the President has at his disposal under the Trade Act of 1974, many powers and techniques for dealing with the situation—including the imposition of duties and quotas.

Let us hope he will then use these powers, if anti-dumping does not work, as he has indicated by his pledge to enforce fully our trade laws.

If prompt action by the administration is not taken or does not succeed, then there is great interest on the part of Congress in enacting further legislation to deal with these problems, including the possible imposition of mandated temporary quotas as the quickest and most effective means of action until more satisfactory longer-term arrangements can be worked out.

In the meantime, Congress has shown a disposition to proceed with the processing of legislative proposals, so that it can be ready to deal with the problems if needed.

This approach by Congress should be encouraged while we attempt to work out the problem through the anti-dumping and other provisions of the existing laws.

Let me turn, finally, to the problem of inadequate cash flow. The industry simply hasn't been generating anything like this amount and has financed much of its capital requirements by borrowing.

We are now faced with the question of where we can come up with the needed funds or where we can cut back.

especially since further borrowings may not be prudent. If we cut back, we face the prospect of dropping behind in technology and of having inadequate capacity to meet further demand.

We are already at a point where we are the only major industrial nation without steel capacity to meet full domestic steel demand in a good year.

It seems to me that the only reasonable course to pursue is to augment cash flow by an improvement in profitability, our more supportive provisions in our tax laws.

The steel industry has marginal profitability at best, being among the least profitable industries in the United States.

We are hard at work on the problem with renewed and regenerated efforts to cut costs. But, at the same time, the free market must be allowed to price our products without artificial interference by the government.

Proposals for changes in tax laws allowing a permanent investment credit, plus capital recovery through depreciation should be enacted in order to bring the United States tax laws in this respect into line with those of the rest of the industrial world, with beneficial results to our cash flows.

We have made proposals for tax law changes, of a complexity beyond the scope of this talk, should be carefully considered and adopted promptly in proper form.

This, then, in broadest outline, is our belief as to the steps which the federal government should take to deal with the steel crisis.

You may be sure that these steps are being reviewed in depth by the industry with various government officials in Washington.

The outlook, if not sparkling, is at least better than it has been for some time.

I have taken a great deal of time tonight to talk in what I hope is not too much detail about these things. I have done so not only because the problems are complex and intricate, but because I believe you are as vitally interested as I am in their solution.

I read recently a feature article on Granite City Steel and what it means to the economy of this area.

The article could have, as well, also dealt with the other side of the coin: How important this economy is to Granite City Steel.

We are partners in this community and our problems are mutual problems. We hope and expect to be in business here for a long, long time—growing and, we hope, prospering.

I don't want to leave you with the impression that the problems faced by the steel industry are unsolvable. Indeed, they are solvable.

Solving them is one of the reasons we businessmen get paid.

Basically, I am an optimist. And I like to recall that the word "crisis," when written in Chinese, is composed of two characters. One represents danger and the other represents opportunity.

Navy Mothers plan party

Quad-City Navy Mothers, Chapter 850, met Thursday evening at the VFW for a social meeting and also donated clothing to the state hospital and infant apparel to a needy family.

Commander Vernest Vonida presided at the session and welcomed the 20 members and one guest, Mrs. Ardella Darr. Mrs. Peggy Jones submitted a report on a rummage sale sponsored by the group, this month. She added that the mens clothing was given to the VFW Post who will deliver the items to the state hospital.

A final discussion was held on plans for the chapter's 20th birthday party to be a pot luck dinner and social evening on Nov. 10 at the VFW.

Hostesses for the evening were Norma Darnell, Frances Westbrook and Margaret Minzes. The mystery package was won by Mildred Walker and other prizes were awarded to Mrs. Minzes, Vera Spurrier, Della Rabb, Hazel Jones, and Jean Teller.

GC Jr. Service plan projects

The Granite City Junior Service Club completed plans to provide eyeglasses for a Granite City girl and to send a gift to an adopted daughter of the club, during a meeting held at the Nameki United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Pam Ried, president, was in charge of the business segment. She announced Mrs. Beverly King and Mrs. Sue Riese will serve as co-chairmen for a fall hayride for members, husbands and guests.

The main topic of discussion related to a workshop session to be held in the home of Mrs. Jo Ellen Harris to prepare items for the club's annual card party and bazaar.

The fund raising project is scheduled to be held at 7:30 p.m. on Nov. 30 at the Knights of Columbus Hall, and is open to the public, it was noted.

Club sponsors Mrs. Jean Ann Vrennick and Mrs. Betty Jo Kozar invited the members to attend a Halloween party in their home, this month.

Miss Donna Price was accepted as a probationary member during the session. Following the meeting a white elephant sale was conducted with Mrs. Faith Holsinger serving as auctioneer.

INITIATION CEREMONY for the largest class of new members of the Granite City Chapter of Future Secretaries Association is discussed prior to the 2:30 Sunday afternoon affair held at Central Christian Church. From left, Judy Novosel, Kathy Jones, Miss Twila Edmonds, Mrs. June Mosele, Miss Becky Batson and Miss Nancy Bezan, all participants in the candlelight ceremony and program.

GC Future Secretaries initiate class of 62

One of the largest groups of candidates for membership into the Granite City Chapter of the Future Secretaries Association, was initiated last week in candlelight ceremony held at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road.

Mrs. Charlene Vunovic, certified professional secretary, and adult advisor from the Tri-Cities Chapter of NSA, welcomed the 62 initiates and their families. She announced the local chapter was organized in 1971 and since that time has enrolled many of the high school students in the Tri-Cities Chapter, after they graduated.

Her topic was "Me, As An Individual" and she related her experiences as a career secretary and with both the student and adult chapters.

Keynote speakers included Miss Twila Edmonds, a member of the Tri-Cities Chapter, who spoke on "What FSA Means To Me." In her remarks Miss Edmonds said FSA means youth first of all and she reminded the pupils of the advantages of belonging to an organization which is helpful in conducting meetings and has guest speakers who offer suggestions for the career minded girl. The speaker defined the goals and achievements realized through belonging to the chapter.

"Our International Association" was reviewed by Mrs. June Mosele, CPS, of the Alton Chapter. Mrs. Mosele said the organization is designed to reach and help train the best secretaries through adult organizations and provides information on skills, poise and understanding each other as individuals.

"There are 30,000 members in the United States, Canada and Mexico, and with this enrollment is one of the largest women's clubs," Mrs. Mosele added. She stressed taking the certified professional secretaries (CPS) tests and to continue education and study, always upgrading skills as a secretary.

GHOST STORIES hold the rapt attention of children as the Granite City Public Library's "Dial-A-Story" actors come to life at the Library's Halloween party. On the stage at right, Jim Fensterman points a warning finger as he tells of the dangers of witches and goblins during a skit with John Melford and Deanne Holzhouser, all Dial-A-Story actors. About 200 children and parents heard stories, saw skits and puppets and sang Halloween songs in the Children's Library. The children also were given candy and a "magic pumpkin" was awarded to one lucky youngster.

GET THE MESSAGE? Things sometimes get a little confused during construction periods, and the expansion of St. Elizabeth Hospital is no exception as a sign along the Madison Avenue side which used to say, "The people make Granite City, Madison, Venice, Mitchell and Pontoon Beach great, appreciate your city" has gotten a bit out of order. A new addition for medical records, a doctor's lounge and medical library is being constructed behind the fence.

Introducing ULTRAVUE AOLITE® PROGRESSIVE POWER LENS

WHAT MAKES THE ULTRAVUE LENS BETTER THAN THE CONVENTIONAL BIFOCAL?

For one thing, it offers superior visual properties — there's no reading segment line to "get used to" so there's no confused or split image, or sudden extremes in magnification. You have clear vision at all distances, with minimal distortion around the edges. Then there is the design of the lens itself. It has a wide reading area; there's no visible segment line and it's designed to be used with the fashion look of today. The ULTRAVUE lens is made of optical quality hard resin, so it is light in weight (half the weight of glass), impact resistant, and available in a wide range of attractive colors and tints. All in all, the ULTRAVUE lens has the versatility to meet your personal needs and preferences, without sacrificing superior optical performance. Nobody ever has to know that you're wearing a bifocal lens. It's your secret.

WE HAVE A SPECIAL PLAN FOR THOSE OF YOU WHO HAVE PURCHASED CONVENTIONAL BIFOCAL LENSES IN THE PAST 3 MONTHS FROM US. A SPECIAL ALLOWANCE WILL BE MADE IF YOU WISH TO SWITCH FROM CONVENTIONAL BIFOCALS TO ULTRAVUE LENSES.

Frohardt parents hear new Officer Friendly

Students at Frohardt School are holding a costume parade today in the vicinity of the school and classroom parties, hosted by the room mothers, afterward.

Plans for the event were announced at last week's meeting of Frohardt Parent-Teacher Association.

Principal speaker was Officer Friendly, Fred Hoffman, who showed a film and discussed the "Crime Blocker" program.

The police officer stressed the neighbor-oriented program relies on concerned citizens alerting officers in an effort to deter burglaries and serious vandalism.

Helping Hand posters were distributed to parents willing to display them in windows, thereby showing children they can get assistance while walking to and from school.

The PTA session opened with the presentation of colors by Brownie Troop 387, under the leadership of Mrs. Sylvia Molski and Mrs. Sue West. Mrs. Judy Russell offered the PTA Prayer.

Mrs. Phyllis Bills, president, conducted the business meeting and the budget was approved for the 1977-78 school year.

A "Book Fair and Country Store" are planned in connection with an open house during National Education Week, set for Nov. 15, from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Mrs. Janet Furman and

Mrs. LaVerne Hammond, co-managers of the country store project, said craft items, Christmas gifts, holiday decorations, candy, bakery goods and white elephant objects will be offered for sale. A large assortment of new books also will be displayed, they added.

Frohardt students may attend a skating party Nov. 14 from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the Stardust Roller Rink, it was announced.

Music and gymnastics will be featured among the student programs offered at future PTA meetings, Mrs. Bills said.

Mrs. Marilyn Sues' third grade class received the PTA award for having the most parents represented at the meeting.

Refreshments were served by the sixth grade room mothers.

Pontoon proposes street paving

The Pontoon Beach Village Board will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday to discuss ways of funding a program for paving of most village streets and for improving the drainage of some streets in Lakeview Estates.

During meetings Thursday night and Saturday afternoon, the village trustees discussed a program using a combination of community development funds and motor fuel tax funds to asphalt most village streets.

Thursday night, the board approved a recommendation from the village's community development citizens' advisory committee appropriating about $125,000 in community development funds to asphalt streets designated by the county as serving low and moderate income families.

A special meeting was called for Saturday to discuss ways of funding a program to expand the asphalt project to include most village streets.

It was noted that an engineering study on drainage and paving work had been completed by the Sheppard, Morgan & Schwab engineering firm under contract with community development and that study can be used for the street improvement program.

A representative of that engineering firm is to be on hand Tuesday evening to discuss possible ways of funding the additional improvements.

It was noted some streets in Lakeview Estates can not be improved, at this time, with motor fuel tax funds since the state has declared the drainage unacceptable.

The village plans to initiate a drainage program first, and then asphalt those streets when the state has approved the drainage.

Phase one of the motor fuel tax paving plan calls for about $68,000 to be spent on Victoria and Westgate drives. The following year, about $32,000 of work for Lakeview and Fontainebleau drives and the remainder of Westgate Drive is planned using MFT funds.

About $90,000 in motor fuel tax funds are available at this time for the work and the state may participate in funding some portions of the program.

In other business, the board decided Thursday night to change the regular meeting night from Thursdays to the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month, beginning in December, with meetings beginning at 7 p.m. Schedule conflicts of some trustees made the change necessary, it was explained. The meeting schedule will begin Dec. 13.

Boy injured in cycle accident

Michael Warren, 13, of 2231 Alexander Ave., was injured when a motorcycle he allegedly was riding struck a mound of dirt near a Granite City Street Department construction area and fell at 1 p.m. Sunday.

The boy's father, Raymond Warren, 37, was issued a ticket alleging he allowed an unauthorized person to drive a motor vehicle.

Michael Warren was riding the cycle south in the alley behind Granite City Honda, 2210 Nameoki Road, when it struck a mound of dirt where the street department is excavating a manhole.

He was taken by Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted with a fracture to his left wrist, a cut to his forehead and abrasions to his face, right elbow and left hand.

PURSE, WALLETS STOLEN

While she was away from her car for a few minutes, someone stole her shoulder purse containing three wallets, Brinda Dixon, 5105 Lewis Ave., reported at 9:15 p.m. Friday.

She said the wallets contained an undetermined amount of currency, driver's license, credit cards and personal papers.

PUBLIC MEETING

There will be a public meeting discussion of Community Development funds in the Madison City Hall, 1523 Third St., Madison, Wednesday, following the 7:30 p.m. City Council meeting.

Road weather data Tuesday

Highway condition information will be available tomorrow to the public from special weather phones located in state police district headquarters throughout Illinois. The service is offered from Nov. 1 through April 15 each year.

A pre-recorded report is updated four times daily, and more frequently if conditions change.

The weather phones are intended to provide motorists with accurate information about highway conditions, and at the same time keep regular police telephone lines open for emergency calls. The telephone number for this area is 345-1330.

Weather phones are also located in these Illinois state police headquarters: Sterling 815-625-6015, Rockford 815-962-7051, Elgin 312-742-7642, Des Plaines 312-827-7101, Joliet 815-727-5471, Rock Island 309-788-0856, Metamora 309-383-4334, Springfield 217-782-5730 and Pesotum 217-967-2217.

KIRKPATRICK BURGLARY

Sheets, towels and blankets were among items stolen in a burglary at the home of Loretta Brooks, 4701 Kirkpatrick Homes, between 8:30 a.m. Friday and 10:30 a.m. Saturday, it was reported Saturday.

Entry apparently was gained through a rear window. Other items taken included a cassette radio, $90 worth of food stamps and $101 in coins.

Charged in shooting

Richard Lynn Mosby, 17, of 2026 Ohio Ave., was charged with reckless conduct after he allegedly fired a double-barreled 410 gauge shotgun through a side door at his home, the pellets striking his father, Robert Mosby, 39, of 2121 Cleveland Blvd. at 8:30 a.m. Saturday.

The father said he was told of a disturbance at the home and went to investigate. He said he went to the side door, opened the screen door and knelt on the wooden door and yelled to his son to come out.

He said he then heard muffled yelling and a shot was fired through the door. Police found a hole the size of a half-dollar through the wooden door and pellets in the screen door. Robert Mosby sustained pellet wounds to his right forearm and hand and his right hip.

Richard Mosby's mother, Mrs. Phyllis Mosby, aided Sgt. Dennis Joyce in convincing Richard to open the door after the incident. Joyce said the younger Mosby came to the door with a baseball bat in his hand, but he laid it down and cooperated with officers in retrieving the shotgun from the basement.

Richard Mosby was taken to the Granite City jail and his father went to St. Elizabeth Hospital for surgery.

Robbed of $35 at motel here

Pete E. Oros, 2204 Lee Ave., was robbed at the Illinois Motel at 1:10 a.m. Sunday, Oros reported to police.

He said that a man entered his room and placed a metal object, which Oros believed to be a gun, to his head.

Oros said he told the man his money was in his wallet in his trousers, "if that is what you're after." He said the man took the money and left. His wallet contained about $35, Oros said.

Burglars steal twin beds

Burglars broke into the home of Hattie Travis, 2135 Ohio Ave., while she was gone for two weeks, and stole two newly-purchased twin beds, it was reported at 10:15 a.m. Saturday.

Police said entry apparently was gained by removing a storm window on the north side of the house, and that the beds appeared to have been removed through a rear door from which the lock was broken.

A chest of drawers and a sewing machine were moved and other furnishings were ransacked and overturned.

A neighbor reported she had seen two men come out of the house on Oct. 23, but did not see them taking anything. Police are seeking three suspects in the case.

Mrs. Katie Lewis dies

Mrs. Katie M. Lewis, 84, formerly of 1633 Fourth St., Madison, died at 4:55 p.m. Saturday at Colonnades Nursing Home. She had been ill seven years and was a resident of the nursing home four years. Mrs. Lewis was born in Collinsville, and was an 80 year resident of the Quad-Cities. She was a member of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church. Her husband, Isaac Lewis, died Feb. 11, 1959.

Seley infant is stillborn

Funeral services were held today for Amanda Sue Seley, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen (Gertrude) Seley, 144 Big Four Place, Mitchell.

The infant was stillborn at 10:38 a.m. Thursday at Jewish Hospital, St. Louis.

Other survivors include a brother, James Williams, at home; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Al (Imogene) Seley of Mitchell, and Mrs. Frank (Mary) Scarsdale and Nedwin Tapp, both of Granite City; and her great-grandmother, Mrs. Lorrinda McDaniel of Thompsonville, Mo.

Details are given in the obituary column.

House burglarized

Burglars broke out a leaded glass window in a rear door to gain entry to the home of Greg Voss, 2305 East 25th St., it was reported at 7:45 a.m. Saturday.

Taken were a citizens band radio, a static power microphone, a television set, 30 albums and a piggy bank, totaling $389 in value.

McNary succeeds Hagnauer

Gene McNary, supervisor of St. Louis County, was elected as chairman of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council board of directors at the council's regular meeting last week. He has served on the Gateway board since 1975, when he was elected county supervisor.

"In accepting the post, McNary said he hopes to see Gateway become a prime mover in solving many area issues, including solid waste, port development, railroad modernization and general aviation.

"I can visualize Gateway becoming a catalyst for united action in the region, and I hope to provide the kind of leadership to make that happen," McNary said. He succeeds Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City as East-West Gateway Chairman.

Other officers elected were Victory Canby, St. Clair County board chairman, as Gateway vice-chairman, and Walter Steinburk, Jefferson County presiding judge as treasurer.

The board adopted a resolution supporting SPIRIT (the St. Louis Area Plans Its Role In Tomorrow), a cooperative effort with the Regional Commerce and Growth Association to seek consensus on a direction for the region.

The resolution documents Gateway's commitment to take an active part in the project and its support in achieving SPIRIT's purpose: to bring the public and private sectors together to develop ways of resolving major regional issues.

SPIRIT grew out of informal discussions over a year ago between Executive Director Alan Richter of Gateway and President Harry Morley of BCGA. They were concerned about "the number of divisions in the area and the lack of a common direction."

In another action, the board endorsed an application from the Metropolitan St. Louis Sewer District for a facility plan study of all wastewater treatment facilities located in its boundaries.

MSD's study will be used to develop a comprehensive solid waste management plan including methods of disposing of ash, sludge, grit, screening and other residual wastes generated by wastewater treatment facilities operated by MSD. The board endorsed a facility plan application from the Village of Sauget, St. Clair County, for construction of a regional wastewater treatment facility to serve Cahokia, East St. Louis and Sauget.

In other actions, the board endorsed: —An application to construct 5.9 miles of Illinois Freeway 409 near Lebanon and O'Fallon.

An application to reconstruct the intersection and approaches to Illinois Route 161 and Green Mount Road near Belleville Area College.

—An application from Olivette, Mo., for Community Development block grant funds to renovate its community center.

Hawaiian trip evokes memories

A pictorial tour of the largest of the Hawaiian Islands — Kauai, Oahu and Hawaii — was taken by Travelers Abroad last week at a meeting at Prather Junior High School.

The speakers were Mr. and Mrs. Homer Huber, who showed colored slides and related details of the island's history. Huber said the United States took possession of the island in 1898 when the war with Spain and the Battle of Manila Bay made clear the strategic value of Pearl Harbor.

He explained that in 1900 the Islands were given territorial government, but as early as 1903 there was a strong popular movement for statehood.

For 57 years, however, Huber said, Congress repeatedly rejected the statehood bill because Hawaii's population was Oriental and largely Japanese.

The splendid record of the Hawaiian-Japanese troops on the Italian front in World War II caused congressional opposition to break down, and in 1959 the Islands became the 50th state, the speaker noted.

A visit to Pearl Harbor with its tragic reminders of the "day of infamy" was both solemn and impressive, Huber stated.

The sunken USS Arizona, part of which still protrudes from the sea, continues to hold the bodies of 1,200 Americans who perished on Dec. 7, 1941.

The names of those who lost their lives are written in such a way, the visitor feels awe and reverence, Huber said. The sight frequently produces the fear that such a holocaust could be repeated, he commented.

at some points, live steam can be seen issuing from cracks in the lava fields.

The Hubers also showed pictures of the Dole Canneries, said to be the largest in the world, together with scenes of market places and vast displays of colorful flowers.

Although real estate is very high, the Hawaiian Islands are experiencing a great building boom, reminiscent of the sudden growth of Miami, Florida, Huber commented.

Alfred C. Stoeber, president, conducted a short business meeting and Edmund Firner introduced Mr. and Mrs. Huber.

Guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Abernethy and Mrs. Lucille Ackermann.

Elaborate irrigation systems have been constructed to raise pineapples and sugar cane, but

KEEPING YOU POSTED

Shoppers this fall are continuing to enjoy a bountiful supply of their favorite meat - beef - at savings. When you shop for beef, compare price. But also compare the quality level of the beef and how it's cut and trimmed - both of which affect the value you are getting for your meat dollar.

The beef Kroger sells is U.S. Choice Grade - mature, flavorful and grain-fed. It's triple-inspected ... first it's approved for wholesomeness by the U.S. Department of Agriculture ... then it's USDA - graded for quality ... and finally, we reinspect it to make sure it meets Kroger's even-stricter standards. We'll only accept the best of Choice Beef - it must have the marbling which provides juiciness and flavor.

Beef is trimmed to Kroger's exacting specifications, too. For example, outside fat is trimmed to 1/16" or less and "tails" on steaks are removed entirely.

Let our labels help you shop. The open date indicating the final day of sale is your assurance of freshness. Then note the primal cut - it's your clue to the proper cooking method. Rib and loin cuts are dry-cooked (without liquid, such as broiling or roasting). Less tender cuts such as chuck and round should be cooked using moist heat (however, if marinated or otherwise tenderized, may be broiled or barbecued). For less shrinkage, more tenderness and finer flavor, cook meats at a steady, low temperature.

Freeze meats if keeping longer than a few days. Thaw frozen meats in the refrigerator ... not at room temperature. Cook immediately.

At Kroger, We want to help you shop wisely for meat - and save!

Did you know that you can purchase a 1-lb. package of mushrooms at 99¢ everyday of the week in your Kroger store. We want to introduce you to an extremely versatile and delicious gourmet treat. Mushrooms are so widely utilized on the "finishing touch" to a delicious beefsteak. They add an exciting flavor and texture to meat, poultry, and seafood. If the bottom of the stem looks dry and brown, trim away a thin slice of the mushroom you buy. You can sautee, marinate, fry in butter, use in soups, stews and casseroles. Consider only 99¢ selected per pound and consider a relatively good source of protein, phosphorus, iron and other minerals. Once you try them you'll find out why they are known as a "gourmet delight". Pick up a pound at your friendly Kroger store.
